was of Mr. His met stred of anybody knew 11m. 7.

Suras from 11 story was made to seem little it will be about 700. Restrict. His out stad it anybody runner.

The Buns han it stary was made to seem little to sold the esting one and asked it anybody knew Hurry (which Eulip &

Eulip 3

Eulip 3

Eulip 2 Final Essay Exam PART I Explain how Grann's "True Crime" OR Vonnegut's Slaughterhouse Five fit the criteria of postmodernist literature. As we have discussed, authors of different genres often write about similar topics and themes. Choose one of the following works we studied and compare with the postmodernist work you analyzed. If you are extraordinarily confident in your knowledge, you may choose another work you read this year in the course of your author research or your literature analyses. Whatever you choose, make sure to include elements of the genre and the author's technique (including diction, syntax and tone). Your essay should be well-reasoned, flawlessly written and no less than five paragraphs in length. I did, otherwise, it this wis just a pointies question "The Earth on Turtle's Back" (Onondaga) "Sinners in the Hands of an Angry God" (Jonathan Edwards) "Speech in the Virginia Convention" (Patrick Henry) "Young Goodman Brown" (Nathaniel Hawthorne) "The Fall of the House of Usher" (Edgar Allan Poe) "Nature" or "Self-Reliance" (Ralph Waldo Emerson) "Walden" or "Civil Disobedience" (Henry David Thoreau) "I Heard a Fly Buzz" (Emily Dickinson) "Song of Myself" (Walt Whitman) "Richard Cory" (Edwin Arlington Robinson) "Theme for English B" (Langston Hughes) "An Occurrence at Owl Creek Bridge" (Ambrose Bierce) The Great Gatsby (F. Scott Fitzgerald) "Life on the Mississippi" (Mark Twain) "To Build a Fire" (Jack London) "The Love Song of J. Alfred Prufrock" (T.S. Eliot) "A Few Don'ts by an Imagiste" (Ezra Pound) "The Red Wheelbarrow" (William Carlos Williams) "Ars Poetica" (Archibald MacLeish) "Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening" (Robert Frost) high Shelves so it was out of trach of children. Now if this West of Please will be PART II "The First Seven Years" (Bernard Malamud) Please write the correct answer in the blank below: At the end of Grann's "True Crime" Bala says that he is writing a sequel to Amok. What is the had talked to the guititle of the sequel? had talked to the guytitle of the sequel? murdered, then Baia came by It was like "Second Chance" or Something about change. I remember he leaved over and whispered it to the guy because he didn't want the guards to hear, but other than that, I don't recall. I can remember the guys name being Chris and he sold the guy's cell phone on line just like the guy in the book sold the Knife'